

THE ECONOMY
WILL CHINA TRIGGER
U.S. INFLATION? (P.28)

JACK WELCH ON LIFE, LOVE, AND
OUTSOURCING (P.76)

O'REILLY INC.
THE TV PUNDIT'S
MONEY MACHINE (P.73)

The McGraw-Hill Companies

BusinessWeek

MARCH 8, 2004

www.businessweek.com

INTEL

What is CEO CRAIG BARRETT's...?
 Hint: It's about...

FASHION

THE MEN'S TEC (for Technology Enabled Clothing) Sport Jacket has 14 hidden pockets to accommodate a cell phone, PDA, digital camera, MP3 player, and ear buds (with channels to hide their wires), a small laptop, and more—even the pockets have pockets.

If you wear it fully loaded, you can probably skip the gym. Yet the three-button, no-vent styling looks up-to-date. The lightweight 50% wool, 50% polyester fabric has a nice feel and doesn't rumple—our sample traveled several days in a mail bag. (In navy, even sizes 36 to 48 regular and 40 to 48 tall, $250 at scottevest.com.)

90 | BusinessWeek | March 8, 2004

